CHILD BARMALDS.

TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT ARE UNDER TWENTY YEARS OF AGE.

More than one-fifth of the females employed in bars in England and Wales are under 20 years of age.

This startling fact has been brought to light by the Joint Committee on the Employment of Barmalids, which has tabulated the result of its investigations thus:

Employed.	Between 10 and 14	Between 15 and 19	Between 20 and 24	Between 25 and 29	Between 30 and 34	Between 35 and 39	Between 40 and 44	Between 45 and 49	Between 50 and 54	Between 55 and 59	Over 60
25	134	6,069	1,023	7,821	1,183	322	107	20	3
Total	27,707

In London alone the child barmalids number 1,442, 15 of them not having attained the age of 15. Publicans are said to prefer, as a rule, young girls, and in support of this it is mentioned that in 350 advertisements stipulating age, 230, or nearly two-thirds of the whole, asked for barmalids of 20 or under.

In explanation of this preference the joint committee says: "The attractions of girlish inexperience, a pretty face, and a pretty figure probably tend more than any other kind of attraction could do to make a bar seductive, and fully repay a publican for the trouble needed to secure them."—Morning Leader.

SCARCITY OF DIAMONDS.

EXTRAORDINARY INCREASE IN VALUE OF GEMS.

It is no exaggeration to say that in twenty-five years there will be as much locked-up capital in a diamond necklace as there is in the average industrial concern to-day, and these will be at such a fabulous price as to be beyond the reach of any but the richest of the rich.

During the past two years the price of diamonds has jumped up 25 per cent.; during the past six months the price has risen 20 per cent., and in another two years diamonds will be another 20 per cent. dearer.

But it is exceedingly difficult to buy diamonds at all. First of all, an introduction has to be got to the syndicate that controls the South African diamond market, and when this difficult matter is arranged the buyer awaits his turn—generally he has to wait about six months.

On the appointed day he goes to the offices of the syndicate and is shown a parcel of diamonds. There is no bargaining; the buyer can either take the diamonds or leave them.

Men have been offered £1,000 for their "share" and have refused it. The reason for the rise in the price of diamonds is that the mines are becoming less productive, although producing finer stones—whiter and more brilliant.

Emeralds have gone up 50 per cent., and there has also been a big increase in the price of pearls and rubies.—Daily Mail, July 7th.

A REMARKABLE JOURNEY.
ACROSS CHINA.

A PLUCKY YOUNG TRAVELLER IN COLOMBO.

Says the Ceylon Observer—Mr. R. F. Johnston, who arrived by the Bibby steamer Staffordshire yesterday (26th ult.) from Rangoon, is the late Secretary to the Government at Weihaiwei. He is, we learn from the Colonial Office List, an M.A. of Magdalen College, Oxford, where he graduated in 1902; and prior to that he had a distinguished scholastic career at Edinburgh University. Mr. Johnston was for a time H. E. Sir Henry Blake's Private Secretary at Hongkong and has also acted as Assistant Colonial Secretary and Clerk of Councils in that Colony. He very recently completed a remarkable journey across China, and when seen by a representative of this paper at Queen's House, to-day, he appeared none the worse for his PROLONGED SOJOURN IN THE WILDS.

Mr. Johnston is a young man—not much over 25; we should think—and speaks modestly of his achievements which in the later stages of any man was over the same difficult country as that followed by Margary, Gill, McCarty, Sechenyi, Walcott, Errol Gray, Prince Henry of Orleans and other celebrated travellers.

Mr. Johnston left Weihaiwei on the 16th January. He went first to Peking and travelled down from Peking to Hankow by the new Chinese Railway (Lu Han Railway)—a trunk line connecting Hankow and Peking which was opened as lately as November, 1905. From Hankow he proceeded up the Yangtze into the Province of Szechuan and down to Tachienlu in Western Szechuan. From here he proceeded

DOWN THE VALLEY OF THE YALUNG RIVER, a large tributary of the Yangtze, and crossed the province of Yunnan and reached Tachienlu. From here he entered Burma, arriving at Bhamo on June 15th. Mr. Johnston found everything quiet throughout. He travelled alone with ordinary caravan people—Chinese at first and later on Tibetans settled in Chinese Tibet which he picked up at various stages in his journey. The country through which he passed, especially that between Tachienlu and Tachienlu, was EXCEEDINGLY WILD AND MOSTLY INHABITED BY TIBETANS.

Very few Europeans have ever been there before, and naturally Mr. Johnston was regarded with some curiosity. The country, although Chinese territory, is Tibetan in every respect—people, language, and customs. Mr. Johnston does not think the country has any great future before it. It is too remote and inaccessible. Some of the passes he had to cross were 17,000 ft. high.

SEVERAL THOUSAND FEET OVER THE EXTERNAL SNOW LINE

In these places it was exceedingly cold Mr. Johnston, however, assured our reporter he felt none the worse for his journey. He had enjoyed it immensely and would readily repeat the trip again. Since June 15th Mr. Johnston has been travelling in Burma and the North Shan State and for a few days was the guest of the Lieut. Governor, Sir Herbert Thirkell White, at Mandalay. He had hoped to go back to Burma before returning to the Far East; but on news he has received here he has to return direct to Weihaiwei from Colombo.

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1906.

THE MANCHURIA-HONGKONG STEAMSHIP SERVICE.

Whatever doubt there may be as to the sincerity of the Japanese promise that Manchuria will be open to the trade of foreign nations on the 1st September next, there can be no the slightest doubt that Japan is determined to make the best possible use, for the benefit of her nationals, of her hard-earned victories in the north. Since the termination of the war, Japan has been exerting her forces to the utmost with the object of restoring those conditions which prevailed in the fertile province of Manchuria prior to the war, and of conferring on the population the forms of government which have been found suitable in the agricultural districts of Nippon. The work has proceeded quietly but none the less expeditiously; the railway lines are in working order, although we are told that they cannot yet be opened to the passage of merchandise, owing to the immediate requirements of the troops still in the country. Those who distrust Japanese methods have roundly declared that compatriots who are traders are finding no difficulty in utilising the railways for the despatch of Japanese goods into the interior, but as the responsible Ministers of the Government have repudiated those statements either as wanton fabrications or gross exaggerations, and as the time remaining for Japanese merchants to establish themselves unopposed by foreign competition can be measured by days, it is needless to labour the points submitted by

Japan's detractors. The important point is that Japan is resolved to follow up her conquest on the battlefield by the more peaceful conquest of the commercial world in the Far East. And one of the centres from which will radiate numberless units of Japanese energy will be the rich hinterland of Manchuria. From the telegram which we published from our own correspondent at Shanghai yesterday, it may be deduced that Japan regards the entire coast of China from Dalny to Hongkong as under her wing. A Japanese company, with a capital of ten million yen has been formed to inaugurate a fleet of steamships which will run in connection with the Manchuria railway. It is well known that the province abounds in mineral deposits and several coal mines have been worked and are now in working condition now. It is proposed to tap the rich coal fields, bring the product to Dalny, or Tairen as it is now termed by the Japanese, and export it in the vessels of the company now incorporated in Hongkong and Shanghai. The telegram in which this information (which should prove of the utmost importance to the shipping community of Hongkong), is conveyed explicitly states that this port is to be the terminus at this end. That will naturally import a new factor into the competition which will spring up when Manchuria becomes an emporium for western goods and will decidedly affect the position of those who have looked forward to the northern market as an outlet for those efforts which were emasculated by the war following the Russian occupation. The Japanese vessels after discharging their cargoes of coal at Hongkong and Shanghai will seek to obtain return cargoes of merchandise to Dalny. In other words, while they will have an established base at Dalny, with a monopoly of the coal trade, they will open agencies here and at Shanghai to procure freight for the north. In this way the ordinary shipping agent will be placed at a great disadvantage in competing for a share of the northern trade. Vessels belonging to local firms may manage to secure cargoes for Manchuria, but it is extremely doubtful whether they will succeed in face of Japanese opposition in obtaining sufficient freight to cover the expenses of the return journey. The Japanese steamship service being in alliance with the coal exporters and the railway operators is bound to hold a controlling interest in the shipping trade, and should it come to a tariff war it is difficult to see how the Japanese can fail to win. All the advantages seem to rest on the side of Japan, but of course there are adventitious circumstances which may materially alter the present outlook. The Japanese business and shipping firms have strongly entrenched themselves in readiness for the forthcoming rush of commercial enterprises, and it will be for the commercial mercies of other nations to discover how these positions may be enlaid. Meanwhile, the only satisfaction which we may feel at the moment lies in the fact that Hongkong is one of the ports whose trade will be augmented by the presence of the Japanese Manchuria steamship service.

HONGKONG GUN-DEALERS AND CANON FIRERS.

Ingenuity has its limitations, as a Hongkong gunshop keeper learned to his cost yesterday. From all that transpired it is evident that the defendant drove a thriving trade in the surreptitious sale of rifles and the manufacture of dummies. The Inspector was in the habit of making his regular calls on the defendant to inspect his safe returns and to examine the stock with the object of discovering whether the sales corresponded with the arms remaining on view. It is perfectly obvious that such inquisitorial methods go against the grain of the "really honest" trader who desires to make a trifle on the side, and the shopkeeper in Queen's Road Central determined to make his fortune and allay the suspicions of the inspecting officer at one and the same time. Accordingly, when his patrons called and whispered that they wished to purchase a number of absolutely reliable rifles to defend themselves against the pirates who scour the Canton delta, and when they also said that they did not wish to be incommoded by the insinuating attentions of the police, the shopkeeper replied that he had met men after his own heart. He was only too willing to oblige for a consideration, but as he was liable to be caught and punished under some absurd law framed by the suspicious authorities, that consideration would require to be highly satisfactory. Whether the defendant required testimonials as to the bona-fides of his customers and demanded a share in the loot should they unfortunately fall into a piratical ambush and sweep their opponents off the face of the waters by means of those new and up-to-date rifles does not appear, but it was made clear that he sympathised with the object of the buyers, for not only did he sell them the rifles sub rosa, but he actually manufactured imitation weapons; water-tube piping doing duty as barrels and rusty nails as triggers. The police found fifty-six of these dummies artificially displayed in the defendant's shop, and the licence-holder urged that he had home-made articles from countrymen in exchange for new weapons, all in the way of business, an unbelieving Magistrate sentenced him to pay a fine of $50, the maximum penalty, and $10 for each of the dummies, or $80 in all. The money was cheerfully paid, so we know that the gunmaker's and gunseller's business is a highly lucrative one. It has been a common belief in Hongkong for many months past that those who had the money to spare found little difficulty in procuring arms and ammunition without going through the ordinary forms required by the Arms Ordinance. The difficulty has been to lay the guilty parties by the heels. After all, the utmost vigilance of the police cannot block every loophole and the rogues who sets out to obtain arms is no common malefactor. He will go to any shifts to effect his purpose, and that he frequently succeeds there cannot be the slightest doubt. The action of the licenceholder in contravening the terms of his licence cannot be too highly reprobated, yet one can realise his temptations. He is offered preposterous prices for his weapons; he is coaxed as only the thorough scamp knows how to coax; he is told that the police will be hoodwinked and nobody will be the wiser if he sells a number of rifles to unknown persons; and at length he is won over, partly by promises and possibly by threats. Of course he should call in the police, but before he knows his position he is too deeply implicated, too much hand in glove with a parcel of scoundrels, to wriggle out of their clutches. He may not be a pirate himself, but without him the pirates could not exist, or at any rate they would be greatly handicapped. Mr. Hazeland, who heard the case, justly remarked, that "he did not think the defendant a fit and proper person to hold an arms licence," and he imposed the maximum penalty. "He regarded the case as a very serious one, especially having regard to recent events in respect of piracy which had occurred close to this vicinity," and in view of which it was absolutely necessary that the provisions of the Ordinance should be enforced in the present instance." The belief that pirates were being supplied with arms from Hongkong has, therefore, for all practical purposes, been justified. It is extremely probable that the bullet which killed Dr. Macdonald on the Saiman and the bullets which wounded the captain and officer of that boat came from weapons which had been disposed of by unscrupulous or faint-hearted dealers in Hongkong. Mr. Hazeland has done what he could to give a salutary lesson to those who traffic with scoundrels, but it is unlikely that it will have much effect. The Ordinance is, in this respect, far too narrow; the maximum fine and punishment are inadequate; and the Attorney-General might be induced to consider the advisability of increasing the powers of the Court so that a criminal found in league with pirates or even suspected of being a friend of pirates might be dealt with in a fashion that would strike terror into the hearts of the evil doer. A fine, which can always be paid out of the profits of the business, even if supplemented by a term of imprisonment, is far too light for the crime; something with the spice of the "cat" in it, we suggest, should be inserted into the Ordinance.

A HONGKONG TRAIT.

Hongkong has been invaded during the past month by gangs of Indian coolies who have been variously stated to be bound for America, Panama and Honolulu. The Indians have generally sojourned in the Colony for several days after arriving from India and Ceylon, and, naturally, the petty shopkeepers have managed to make hay while the sun shines. Even the few pieces in the possession of the average Indian coolie is not to be despised in these days when competition exists on every side, and it is safe to say that these coolies left Hongkong considerably poorer—which is a very comparative term in this case—than they were on arrival. The majority of people, however, have had little interest in the worldly possessions of the Indians, which is little to be wondered at considering that most of them seemed to have nothing more than the merest wisp of a loin-rag to call their own. But there has certainly been a certain amount of vague speculation as to the destination of the emigrants. Even the lower-class Chinese coolies were not wanting in curiosity. When the rush to the Californian gold fields occurred in '49, the Chinese, or at least all of them who could raise the passage-money, were off hot-foot to Kum Shan (the Mountain of Gold); and there was another exodus when gold was discovered in Australia, the Chinese being eager to try their fortunes in Sun Kum Shan (the New Mountain of Gold). Perhaps some of the naive inquirers who hung around the Indians the other day believed that by carefully counting their cash they might emulate their fathers and secure riches from another gold mountain. It is to be feared that their hopes have been disappointed on this occasion. We learn that the Indian coolies have been indentured to work in the saw mills of Vancouver, Port Moody, Barnet, and New Westminster. The contractor, Dr. D. R. Darrichand, has made an agreement with a number of sawmills to furnish them with 2,000 Sikh and Hindu labourers. It is reported in the latest issue of the Vancouver World that already 300 Indians have been placed, and more are expected by every mail. Most of the men, it is stated, are reservists of the British Army in India, but it is really the case the coolies who have made Hongkong their half-way house hardly impressed on us as being any great loss to the Army. It remains to be seen how they will weather the winter of Canada. In this connection, it is of interest to notice that the Indian coolies are taking the place of Chinese and Japanese labourers in the lumber mills. When we remember that the tin mines of the Federated Malay States—which demand hard manual labour and continuous efforts on the part of those employed to wrest the metal from the soil—are worked by coolies specially imported from South China it is difficult to credit the statement that the Chinese are being ousted in favour of the Indians. Possibly, the explanation is that the Indian coolies are expected to be more docile and tractable than their predecessors, for the Chinese coolie is notably a self-assertive individual who will by no manner of means suffer any imposition. Possibly, also, Indian coolies are willing to accept less wages than a gang of Swatow labourers. The idea of substituting Indians for Chinese and Japanese does not strike a resident in China as being a very happy one, but it is an experiment, and that is all that can be said about it. In any case, Hongkong derives some benefit from the short visits of these indentured coolies. It is one of the peculiarities of Hongkong that it invariably manages to secure some of the spoil if spoil is around. When the gold fever was at its height Hongkong welcomed the Chinese emigrants to America, and Australia, and helped to relieve them of some of their superfluous cash during their temporary residence in the Colony. When coolies were required for South Africa, Hongkong stepped in and demanded her share of the disbursements. Now we have the Indian—Lo, the poor Indian—who is contributing to the exchequer of the lodging-house keepers and all the tribe of hawkers. So that we may confidently rest assured, despite all gloomy prognostications, that there is still hope for Hongkong.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

We have been asked to state that the members of the Hongkong Volunteer Troop are holding a gymnkhana at 4 p.m. to-morrow afternoon, at the football ground, Happy Valley, and that they will be "at home" to their friends.

The friends of Mr. Irvin Whiteley Kew will be pleased to learn that he has successfully passed all his second year examinations at the Harvard University, U.S.A. Mr. Kew like Mr. Kwan, who was successful at Cornell University, was also educated at the Diocesan School. After his graduation Mr. Kew will join his brothers, Drs. Kew Bros., dental surgeons.

"ANYTHING not mentioned on the menu will be charged for," the waiter of a restaurant, who was arrested and charged recently with emptying a pot of boiling tea down the back of a coolie, because the latter would not pay an extra five cash for consuming more pepper and mustard than was allowed, was ordered at the Police Court the other day to pay a fine of $10. No order was made that the price of the tea wasted on the coolie's back should be refunded to the proprietor of the restaurant.

"But she is not the defendant in this case," remarked his Honour Mr. A. G. Wise, Puisne Judge, in the Summary Court this morning, when the solicitor for the defendant in a case of Jan A. Sham versus A. Ogilvie, handed his Honour a doctor's certificate of the wife's illness, "so what on earth do we want with this certificate?" "She is not the defendant, it is true; my Lord, but she is a very material witness, and as she cannot appear we ask for an adjournment." "Allowed for one week."

By kind permission of Lieut.-Col. A. G. Fitton, D.S.O., and Officers, the Band of the 2nd Batta, "The Queen's Own" (Royal West Kent Regt.), will play the following programme of music, during dinner, at the Hongkong Hotel, on Saturday, 18th inst.

March—"El Capitan" Sousa
Overture—"Romeo and Juliet" Tchaikovsky
Valse—"Tres Jolie" Waldteufel
Selection from—"The Gondoliers" Sullivan
Song (Cornet Solo)—"Kilkeny" Sullivan
Highland Fiddle—"The Wee MacGregor" Amers
Grand March—"Pomp and Circumstance" Elgar
God Save the King.

"Take this scrap of paper," said his Honour the Puisne Judge, in the Original Jurisdiction Court this morning, "and return it to one Charles Forsyth. What the illness of his wife has to do with me I don't know, and in any case, if he is prevented from appearing when his case is called, this scrap of pencil written paper is not the way to announce or certify the fact. It is not even written in ink, or on proper note-paper, and I cannot accept such an intimation. I want a doctor's certificate, tell him," said his Honour, addressing the Clerk of the Court.

HONGKONG MEAT SCANDAL.

DISEASED PIGS AT THE ABATTOIR.

Cattle inspector J. T. Cotton, of the Kennedy Town Cattle Depot, charged two coolies before Mr. H. H. J. Compere, at the Police Court, this morning, with removing a dead pig into the slaughter house for the purpose of dressing it for human food. Inspector Cotton said he was in charge of the Kennedy Town Cattle Depot. At a quarter past four yesterday afternoon he saw the two defendants attempting to smuggle the carcass of a dead pig into the slaughter-house. He stopped the men and on examining the animal he found that it had been dead for about two or three hours. Death was due to heat apoplexy. The flesh was feverish and high in colour. Continuing, the inspector said that this has been the continual practice of coolies, but they were seldom caught as men were employed simply for that purpose, although it cannot be proved. The custom in vogue at the depot is that pigs to be killed must be confined in the swine depot for forty-eight hours so that they can be thoroughly examined before being slaughtered. As often occurs, pigs die in the swine depot before they can be examined, and the coolies make attempts to smuggle their carcasses into the slaughter-house and have the animal dressed and served, instead of suffering the loss, which they would have to do under ordinary circumstances. The defendants said that when they got the pig out of the swine depot it was alive and well. When the inspector stopped them it died. His Worship imposed a fine of 15 each.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

The August Criminal Sessions will be held at the Supreme Court to-morrow, Saturday, his Honour Sir Francis Piggott, Chief Justice, presiding. The following are the only cases to go before the jury:

1. Rabecm Bux, charged with bribery.
2. Pang Kung, charged with robbery.

CLAIM FOR WORK DONE.

MUCH-SURPRISED DEFENDANT.

In Summary Jurisdiction this morning, his Honour Mr. A. G. Wise, Puisne Judge, presiding, the Hung Sing Kung See firm sued Lau Tak Yuen for recovery of the sum of $361, being balance of an account for work done by plaintiff for defendant, and for materials supplied. Defendant denied the debt, but the plaintiff produced his books and proved it. Defendant then said he had paid the amount.

His Honour: Have you a receipt?
Defendant: Yes, I have a receipt for the whole amount.

His Honour: Where is it?
Defendant: I wrote it in my book!

His Honour: Oh, you wrote it—but did plaintiff sign it?
Defendant: No, my Lord! (Laughter.)

His Honour: Then that is no receipt and the entry proves nothing.

Defendant: But I would not write it if I did not pay it.

His Honour: And you would not pay it without getting a red receipt, signed by the person to whom you made the payment. You have admitted that you did owe the money, and you have nothing to show that you paid it, while the plaintiff swears he never received it, and never gave a receipt for it, and the money was still due and owing.

Judgment with costs for plaintiff.
Mr. Howell, head bailiff, then asked that immediate execution be granted as the only chance of getting any money. Four years ago he was summoned to the Court, but he neither appeared in person nor by representation, and judgment was given against him with costs. That judgment remained unsatisfied, and immediate execution was necessary so as to secure satisfaction in the cases against him, of which there were three in all.

Immediate execution of the judgment was ordered.

REICHSTAG TOURISTS.

THE PROGRAMME FOR THE ORIENT.

We learn, remarks the Canton Daily News, that Mr. L. Haupt, the chief of Messrs. Melchers and Co., in Hongkong, the agents of the N. D. L., has received a letter from his partner, Mr. Korff, who arrived lately in Hamburg from the Far East saying that there is a possibility that the members of the German Reichstag who are on a visit to the Far East and are expected at the end of this month by the German mail steamer Prinz Ludwig as we have already reported will change their programme for the visit, which was arranged in a somewhat unfortunate manner, leaving out a visit to the northern places, and instead of spending a fortnight at Tientsin, will travel by rail from Hankow to Peking returning to Tientsin via Tientsin and Chefoo. The programme has not yet been settled, however, as Mr. Delius, the commercial attaché of the German Consulate-General in Shanghai, who has been detailed to accompany the party officially throughout their tour, must receive special instructions by the last German mail before their arrival with regard to the definite arrangements of the journey. The party now consists of five members only, two having been kept back by unforeseen circumstances at the last moment. They are accompanied, however, by two ladies, wives of the members of the party.

An Indian clerk, in the employ of the Hongkong Hotel, by name A. R. Soonderam, gave a ricksha coolie in charge at No. 2 Police Station, at 1.15 o'clock this morning, for demanding more than his legal fare. The police at the station heard the charge and entered the man on the charge-sheet and accompanied him with the best call they had. When the case was called before Mr. Hazeland, at the Police Court, this morning, there were no signs of Soonderam, and Inspector Gourlay applied for a remand until to-morrow, which was granted.

MARINE COURT.

FAILING TO REPORT PASSENGER'S DEATH.

Before Hon. Captain L. A. W. Barnes-Lawrence, R.N., Marine Magistrate, this morning, A. P. Gutierrez, first clerk at the Mercantile Marine Office, proceeded against Henry Clifton, master of the British steamer Charterhouse, for failing to comply with article 7 of section 25 of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1894, in not recording in the log-book of the said vessel the fact of the death of a Chinese passenger on the 30th May last, while on a voyage from Singapore to Hongkong.

Defendant pleaded guilty.
Mr. Gutierrez said he had been informed that no entry had been made in the official log-book of the s.s. Charterhouse of the death of a Chinese passenger on board between Singapore and Hongkong, which took place on the 30th May last, which is an offence under section 25 of the Merchant Shipping Act.

Henry Clifton, master of the s.s. Charterhouse, said he forgot to make the entry at the time the death occurred. The ship was one day from Hongkong, and they were experiencing rough weather, which necessitated his remaining on the bridge during the time the burial took place. He did not make any report later as he thought there might be trouble over it.

The official log-book was produced and found to contain no entry of the death in question.

Witness, continuing, said the doctor on board was an Indian named W. Boyle; he left the ship at Singapore, on returning from the voyage. He was unknown to witness previous to the voyage in question.

His Worship said: The omission to record in the official log-book the death of any person on board your vessel, as well as the particulars relating thereto, is a serious one. In this case the death of a Chinaman took place on 30th May during a voyage from Singapore to Hongkong, and it is only now, due to a report which investigation proves to be correct, that I am able to learn something of the facts of the case. A consequence of this is that no proper inquiry into the circumstances can be made here, as the doctor, who at the time was borne on the ship's articles, and who also according to law should have signed the entry in the log-book, is no longer in the ship. It must be apparent to you that if the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act are not complied with in this respect the ends of justice may very easily be defeated. As I learn that the doctor, whose evidence is all-important is residing at Singapore I am communicating with the Master Attendant at that port with a view to his holding an inquiry, on the return of your vessel there, into the cause of the death. For non-compliance with the provisions of section 25 of the Merchant Shipping Act I fine you $50.

THE OPIUM SCANDALS.

MEMORIAL TO THE GOVERNOR.

MR. CHURCHILL'S REMARKABLE IGNORANCE.

The Bishop of Victoria writes us as follows:—Owing in part to the remarkable ignorance displayed by Mr. Winston Churchill with regard to the scandal attendant on the system of Opium Farming; and also in part to the actual scandal which has recently occurred in the Colony in that connection, your columns, and those of your contemporaries, have of late contained not infrequent notices of the present condition of the Opium Trade. It may therefore interest your readers to know that the following petition, signed by the ministers and senior missionaries of the British Churches and Missions in Hongkong, was recently sent in to the Governor.

H.E. The Governor has kindly promised to give the matter his careful consideration.—I am, etc.,

St. Paul's College,
17th August, 1906.

SIR,—At a time when the House of Commons has just passed a resolution "That this House reaffirms its conviction that the Indian Opium trade is morally indefensible and requests His Majesty's Government to take such steps as may be necessary for bringing it to a speedy close," it seems to us that it will not be inopportune to present a humble address to Your Excellency, and the Government of this Colony, with felicitous to the system on which the traffic in Opium is conducted in Hongkong.

But before we do this we would venture to call your Excellency's attention to the striking consensus of opinion which appears to prevail now in various parts of the world with regard to the use of opium. In China more than one of the high officials of the Empire have declared against its use, and have issued orders to issue regulations to check it within their own jurisdictions; and the Viceroy of Nanking has undertaken to present to the Imperial Government a petition against the trade in Opium, which is now in course of signature by the missionaries at work in China.

The Government of Japan absolutely prohibits its use by its own people, and has passed stringent laws to eradicate its use from amongst the Chinese resident within its dominions. The Government of the Philippines, after an exhaustive inquiry into the subject conducted by a Commission specially appointed for the purpose, has decided to adopt measures with regard to the use of Opium in the Philippines almost identical with those of Japan.

To pass on to our own Colonies in Australia the Commonwealth Government, acting on the initiative taken by the Chinese Community, has issued a proclamation, prohibiting the importation of opium into Australia, except for medical use, from the 1st of January, 1906. The Transvaal has passed a yet more stringent measure of prohibition. In short, on all sides there is evidence of a sincere desire to prohibit or to limit, so far as possible, the traffic in, and use of, opium.

Your petitioners are earnestly desirous that the relationship of the Hongkong Government to the traffic should be amended. For, in our opinion, the present system of Farming, which is in operation in this Colony, tends directly to encourage the use of opium and for this encouragement the Government is responsible. The Government is interested in getting as much revenue as possible, and by calling for tender stimulates competition on the part of those who bid for the right of farming to increase their bids for that right as much as possible. The Opium Farmer must get his money back, and therefore he uses every means in his power to encourage the use of opium. He uses his business to the utmost extent. The Philippine Commissioners, in summing up the conclusions which it had formed, strongly condemn the system of Farming for the following reasons:—

(a) The farmer endeavours to increase his profits by extending his business, and so the use of opium is increased.
(b) Extensive smuggling also exists under this system as found in these countries visited by the Committee.
(c) The matter of raising a revenue by such a system exposes the Government to misapprehension and detraction.
(d) It is hardly moral to delegate to an individual, not a representative of the people, such authority in the way of supervising, detecting, and policing as the farmer usually exercises. To exercise such authority is a function of the Government only. (Report of Philippine Commission p. 45.)

Again, in discussing the conditions of the traffic in Java, where farming had been tried and abandoned, as was also the case in Saigon, the Committee writes:—
"The old system of farming out the sale of opium, in fact, not only was counteracted in practice, as far as the gradual reduction of the consumption of that drug was concerned, but it was also a source of corruption and bribery of Government employees on the part of the Chinese farmers, who were tempted to extend the sale of the drug to persons who were unauthorized to buy it. It was also the cause of frequent disturbances, in cases where it was employed by unprincipled persons as a means of revenge. These persons would surreptitiously place Opium in the houses of private persons, and then maliciously and falsely accuse them of possessing Opium clandestinely. The principal reason for the abandonment of this system was that the former, in order to push his business, exhausted all available means to extend the sale of his merchandise." (Ibid p. 38.)

The experience in Hongkong has not been very dissimilar to that in Java.
"Your petitioners are not prepared to make a recommendation to the Government with regard to what alternative system of dealing with the use of Opium, whether by High Tariff, or High License, or Prohibition, or Government

Monopoly, (which last is recommended by the Philippine Commission), it would be best to adopt in Hongkong. To do so would be beyond our province. What we do most earnestly desire is this: that our Government should be clean handed in this matter, and should use its great influence and authority to check, rather than to encourage the use of this injurious drug. With this end in view we would conclude with two definite petitions to your Excellency:—

(1) That Your Excellency will cause careful inquiry to be made, by Commission or otherwise, as to what may be the best method by which the Government may check and, if possible, in time entirely abolish the use of opium, except for medicinal purposes, in this Colony.

(2) That Your Excellency will give instructions that the pupils in the public schools of this Colony shall be taught the evil and debasing results of the opium habit; and that the primers of hygiene, used as text-books in the said schools, shall include the necessary information on this matter.

With regard to this matter of education, we would beg leave to add a quotation from the evidence of a Japanese Pastor, resident in Formosa, which is supported by the evidence of many others.

"There is no one factor that more strongly influences the young generation against the opium vice than the instruction given them in the public schools regarding the poisonous and pernicious effects produced by the drug. The Chinese youth are slowly learning the Japanese language, and with it are acquiring Japanese ideas and ideals, among which the idea most deeply inculcated is the perniciousness and disgrace of the opium vice for which they are taught to have an abhorrence." (Ibid p. 63.)

At the same time, however, we would point out, and we doubt not that your Excellency will agree with us, that so long as the Government encourages rather than checks the opium vice, instruction in the schools will be of little avail. Therefore your Petitioners would humbly request, etc.,

We have the honour to be, Sir,
Your Excellency's most obedient servants,

J. C. VICTORIA.

SENSATIONAL MURDERS AT DRIP BAY.

OCCUPANTS OF FISHING JUNK KILLED.

ALLEGED MURDERERS AT MACAO.

A highly sensational murder is alleged to have been committed by a mutinous crew of a fishing junk, in the waters of the Colony, on the night of the 2nd inst., when the master of the junk, his wife and their son were done to death.

The junk on which the tragedy occurred is a deep sea fishing boat and carries a crew of ten persons, which comprised the master and owner of the junk, his wife, his son, daughter and nephew, and a crew of five men. It is reported that some time back one of the members of the crew suggested to the owner of the junk that he would like to make his daughter his wife. The master objected to the alliance and there the matter was supposed to have ended. The master forgot about the matter afterwards and there was nothing to show that the rejected suitor had any ill-feeling. That there was an ill-feeling, nevertheless, is alleged, and that the alleged lover-incited the remainder of the crew to fall in with his plans is also suggested, for at nine o'clock on the night of the 2nd August the crew broke out in mutiny. Fortunately there were no arms on board, or if there were any, the mutineers had no means of securing them. The crew, it is alleged, swooped down on the master and his family, who were asleep, and the murders began. The hands, and feet of the captain of the junk were bound and he was pitched into the sea. He sank immediately. His wife and son were treated in a similar manner and they disappeared in the deep. They then turned their attention to the nephew of the captain, who was awakened by the noise; and soon he was flung into the sea. The mutineers then set sail, taking with them the sixteen-year-old daughter of the master. Happily the nephew of the murdered captain was a strong swimmer, and had it not been for him the police and the public would have been ignorant of the outrage. He managed to remove the bindings on his wrist and kept afloat for fully six hours. He drifted in the way of a passing junk journeying to Hongkong and arriving here on the 6th instant, made his way to the Water Police Station and related the whole affair.

Inspector Langley and Sergeant Wilden took the matter in hand, and it was not until Wednesday that they had obtained a clue as to the whereabouts of the crew. On Thursday afternoon Sergeant Wilden left the Colony, where he was bound for could not be ascertained, but that he was after the alleged murderers was not denied. This morning, the following telegram arrived in the Colony for the police:—"Macao, Assistance wanted. Warrants, Wilden."

Inspector Langley was very busy this morning obtaining the necessary papers from the Magistracy, and he left to-day for Macao. The alleged murderers, who we believe have not yet been arrested, but are being followed, will be captured when the warrants are to hand and brought back to Hongkong for trial.

MALAY STRIKE IN HONGKONG.

YEARNS FOR NATIVE CURRIES.

Because they were minus a cook, and had to do double work on board, on account of the shortage of men, forty Malay seamen—twenty deck hands and a like number of firemen—the crew of the steamer Virginia—declared that until they got what they wanted from the captain not a stroke of work would be done by them. It was not solely because of the absence of their favourite cook, who thought it wise to desert in New York, that they were not served with Malay dainties at table, but it was the opinion of those on board that there was some other grievance behind that. They thought that the crew knew that they could obtain better jobs in Hongkong and higher salaries, and they wanted to be paid off.

Captain John M. Crocker did all he possibly could to effect a reconciliation with the men, but he failed, and then he turned them over to Inspector Langley, of the Water Police. The men appeared before Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz, at the Police Court, this morning, when the grievance of the twenty deck hands was heard.

Mr. E. J. Grist, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, appeared for the defendants.

His Worship wanted to know, when the men were placed before him, why they were not taken before the Harbour Master, but Inspector Langley stated that since his Worship had decided, on the 8th instant, to hear the case of the firm he thought that as the deck hands were from the same vessel it was the proper thing to bring them to the Police Court also.

The charge against the men was disobeying the orders of the captain, and Mr. Grist submitted that the men might have been justified in disobeying the captain's orders. It might also have been under extenuating circumstances, such as a ship registered to carry a crew of twenty men, while there are, only four on board.

But the captain says that men deserted at New York, explained the Court.

"Yes," replied Mr. Grist, "I heard of that; but the ship has touched at different ports since she left New York. They were lately at Penang and Pulo Way and surely they could have obtained more men at the latter port."

On consulting the captain, his Worship said that no Malay seamen could be obtained at Pulo Way.

Mr. Grist added that it was very unreasonable to have men working short-handed for eight months.

"If the men have a grievance let them see the Shipping Master, it has nothing to do with me. It is a case for the Harbour Master," said Mr. Gompertz.

It was then said that the men had already interviewed the Shipping Master, and that he had told them there was no grievance and sent them back to the ship.

The captain said that he would undertake to get men to fill the places of the deserters.

Mr. Grist: I quite understand the difficulty the captain has in engaging new men, but if he found that he was short-handed the proper thing for him to do would have been to discharge the Malay crew and engage a fresh crew of other nationalities. The men were, justified in not working.

(To the captain): Have you got men to take the deserters' places?

Captain: I have made arrangement with the Shipping Master about that.

His Worship: When can you get the other men?—If the defendants return to duty I will get them at once.

Mr. Grist added that without a cook, and the men doing double work, there was no doubt that they were not anxious for the job, besides there was no security to show that they were not going to continue doing the same for two years.

The question of a postponement was talked of so that Mr. Grist could see the captain and come to some arrangement about putting the men aboard. Mr. Grist contended that under the circumstances the men should be released on bail, but the Court was doubtful about the matter. Mr. Gompertz held that the wages current in the Colony were higher than what defendants were receiving and he thought that might lead them to desert, but the captain knew better. He said that to each man was due the sum of between £14 and £15, and should they desert that money would be forfeited. He thought that would have a hold over the men and had no objection to bail. He would be glad to get the men back for at present he was engaging Chinamen and they had to be paid. The case was then remanded until the 24th inst., bail $5, and Mr. Grist and the captain was to make arrangement about getting the men on board.

The case of the twenty firemen was then heard. One man who was deputed spokesman said that the reason they refused duty was because they could not get proper food on board. The cook deserted six months ago and they wanted to go too. Again, Mr. Gompertz tried to get the men to return to the ship, but they refused, saying that they preferred to have the captain pay Chinese—as the captain was doing now—out of the wages due them than return on board.

The case was adjourned for one week. Bail $5 each.

THE LAUNCH-WHISTLE NOISANCE.

COXSWAINS FINED.

At the Marine Court, this morning, Hon. Captain Barnes-Lawrence, R.N., Marine Magistrate, presiding, the masters of the steam launches Keung On, Sun Kwong On, and Li Sing, were charged at the instance of Mr. E. Jones, Assistant Harbour Master, with unlawfully using the steam whistles of the said launches on the 16th inst., in Victoria Harbour. The first man gave two short blasts on his whistle, and then wrongly altered his course to starboard instead of to port, as indicated by his whistle. He said he only blew his whistle to indicate that he was going alongside the wharf. The second man was charged with blowing his whistle needlessly twice over, although there were no vessels in his immediate neighbourhood for him to signal to, except a few sampans at anchor, the whistles being blown without any rhyme or reason. He said he blew the blasts to show where he was going. He was going to the Italian and he signalled to let those on board know which side he would go. The third man was charged with blowing long blasts while coming in to the wharf opposite Wing Wo Street. There was no reason for these signals.

His Worship said there was too much of this unlawful using of the whistles by the coxswains of launches in the harbour, and it had got to stop. In fining the three men $5 each, with alternative of seven days' imprisonment, his Worship intimated he would be very severely with all offenders in this direction brought before him in future.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

Canton, 16th August.
A number of shareholders of the Yuet-Han Railway Company held a meeting on the 15th inst., at the Stayup Club, for the purpose of discussing the best means of electing the committee of the Company. The meeting was quite orderly and regular.

Now that the initial operations in connection with the construction of the Yuet-Han Railway are well on the way it has been found necessary to purchase ground from the landowners along the proposed route. All the necessary arrangements have been left in the hands of the assistant manager, Mr. Chau Lun Chut.
